So You Want to Be a Teacher?: Teaching and Learning in the 21st Century Janice Koch

The underlying and thoroughly integrated premise of this text is to help students uncover whether they are a "good fit" for the teaching profession. In Part I, the author asks students to reflect on why they want to teach and to consider who they are, and whether "who they are" is a teacher. In Parts II, III, and IV, the text moves on to cover the traditional topics of the course; through both the pedagogy and the exposition, the author continues to ask readers to reflect on how the information she is providing affects their decision to pursue teaching. Along with the theme of the text, the author stresses the two most important topics in K-12 education today and their impact in the classroom: the effect of technology and the Internet on teaching and learning, and the importance of understanding the roles that diversity and culture play in the lives of teachers and their students.

Playing with family in a park, coming to see the coastal world or hanging out with close friends is thing that usually you could have done when you have spare time, then why you don't try thing that really opposite from that. One particular activity that make you not feeling tired but still relaxing, trilling like on roller coaster you have been ride on and with addition of knowledge. Even you love So You Want to Be a Teacher?: Teaching and Learning in the 21st Century, you are able to enjoy both. It is excellent combination right, you still would like to miss it? What kind of hang-out type is it? Oh can happen its mind hangout men. What? Still don't have it, oh come on its called reading friends.

Carol Williams:

As a student exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher questioned them to go to the library in order to make summary for some guide, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's heart and soul or real their leisure activity. They just do what the professor want, like asked to go to the library. They go to there but nothing reading significantly. Any students feel that reading is not important, boring and also can't see colorful photographs on there. Yeah, it is for being complicated. Book is very important for you. As we know that on this time, many ways to get whatever we wish. Likewise word says, ways to reach Chinese's country. So , this So You Want to Be a Teacher?: Teaching and Learning in the 21st Century can make you really feel more interested to read.
