Become a big bug hunter without fear of being bitten or stung. With a piece of paper you can start to create an insect world of your own. The uses of these little paper critters are almost endless, be it educational or for simply playing a practical joke. A scorpion ready to strike under someone's pillowcase is not my idea of funny, but others will disagree! A fat brown cockroach always gets a lively reaction. And when the jokes have worn a little thin, a fluttering mobile of brightly-colored butterflies is just the thing to make amends.

Make these fun models:

- Caterpillar
- Scorpion
- Dragonfly
- Snail
- Cockroach
- Butterfly
