HOBOPETE and the GHOST TRAIN Nestled deep in the Appalachian Mountains of West Virginia, there's a sleepy little town by the name of Carbon Hollow. Unless you are from the area, you probably never heard of it. After all, nothing of consequence ever happens in Carbon Hollow. Although, there was this one-year the town folks will never forget. It was in the spring of 1963 when Andy, Matt and Ben, three young boys from Carbon Hollow, began hearing trains pass in the night. No one else heard the trains, just them. Or so they thought. The boys supposedly being the only ones who heard the trains was disturbing. But, even stranger was the fact that no tracks ran through Carbon Hollow and, every time they heard the trains, someone died. Living in a cave outside of Carbon Hollow was an old man that town folks had nicknamed "Hobo Pete." The old man had secrets, many of which he preferred no one ever knew. One such secret was of the nightmares that he had of a Ghost Train. Every night, the train with its evil conductor would come to Pete in his dreams. The conductor was determined to have Pete as a passenger, but the old man knew what boarding the train meant, after all, only dead people rode that train. Climb aboard and learn the secrets of Hobo Pete, of how he silenced the Ghost Train, and what became of the boys from Carbon Hollow. All Aboooooaaaaaard! A story that can be enjoyed by people of all ages. In addition to the cover artwork this book is highlighted with seventeen detailed illustrations in black-and-white by original artist, Henry David Potwin.
